

If you are an HR professional or executive at your organization we hope you will join us to discuss and share participant-driven HR best practice process and program information. Together, we brainstorm solutions for overcoming HR obstacles as well as network with other participants, all in an effort to help you reap the greatest return on your HR investments.

You are invited to:

- Share and learn practical HR strategies and proven techniques from other peer professionals
- Brainstorm solutions for overcoming current HR obstacles

A Sampling of Topics:

- Continuous Process Improvement (CPI)
- Performance Management Evaluations and Program Design
- Employee Engagement and Retention
- Change Management

Roundtable Inspired By

The concept for the Roundtable came from a survey and corresponding article written by Jennifer Olsen, Principal of Resourceful HR, LLC and David Black, HR attorney for Jackson Lewis, LLP. Survey participants met after the article was published to discuss and share information about HR practices that work. The valuable discussions and information shared during that first roundtable inspired us to open up this resource to other HR professionals and key executives. For a copy of the article contact us!
