Our screening process ensures that you engage with individuals who possess the skills and experience you require and who are also a good fit for your organization.

As part of our placement service we will:

- Create sourcing strategies based on your budget and the type(s) of candidate(s) you are seeking.
- Help promote a positive brand image for your company. This is especially important when securing top talent and ensuring candidates have a positive impression of your organization.
- Interview candidates and provide detailed information throughout the screening and interview process so you can make informed hiring decisions.
- Assist with conducting applicant testing, background screening, negotiations and candidate declinations.
- Manage all correspondence with candidates providing feedback and updates as well as answering questions.
- Once the right candidate is identified we will help you secure the candidate for the duration requested.
